

Who Wants be a Millionaire

Rules: You can score in two different ways:

- 1) For each correct answer you get you receive the amount in that round, i.e. if you get 6 answers correct in the £1000 round you would receive £6000 in total for that round.
- 2) You just count 1 point for each one you get right just like a normal quiz!

50:50 lifeline, you have three 50:50 lifelines for any question in the £1000, £8000, £15000, £50,000, you must ask the quiz master to take two answers away, they will then choose and do this so no one else hears. If more than one person does this on the same question then the quiz master must use the same 50:50 hints to make it even.

Phone a friend, each player has only one of these lifelines. This can only be used on the £100,000 questions. You can steal one persons answer. If you want to do this then pick the person you want to steal from, put your hand up to get the quizmasters attention and write down the 'friend' you want and show the quizmaster who it is. At the end of that round, whatever the 'friend' has answered for that question, right or wrong becomes their answer for that question. Only one person can phone a friend on any one question, so the first to put their hand up, gets that one.
